1. [ ] BRIEFING Grenville Garside, on the staff of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, called to request a briefing of the Committee on the energy report. After discussing the various possibilities, Garside thought a briefing at the classified level, probably involving Members only, would be in line with Chairman Henry M. Jackson's (D., Wash.) thinking and we will shoot for Wednesday or Thursday morning. [ ] CPS/DDI, was advised.

2. [ ] LIAISON Bill Miller, Staff Director, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, called in connection with the ABC story that David Bufkin is organizing mercenaries and requested a Committee report on what we know about Bufkin's present and past activities in this regard and any Agency involvement. In response to my query, Miller said it was possible that a Member might ask a question on this topic during our session with the Committee this afternoon.

3. [ ] LEGISLATION Called Franz Oppen, on the staff of the Subcommittee on Consumer Protection and Finance, House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, regarding the status of legislation in the House similar to S. 305. Mr. Oppen said his Subcommittee was scheduled to hold hearings on this legislation on 20 and 21 April. Mr. Oppen was aware that our proposed amendment to S. 305 was favorably considered by the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs. He said he would like to see a copy of our language and anticipated no problem with his Subcommittee or Committee.

4. [ ] LIAISON Dave Finnegan, on the staff of the Energy and Power Subcommittee, House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, called to request our participation in open session on the world energy situation at 1:30 p.m. in 2123 Rayburn House Office Building on 25 April with Administration witnesses. I recommended that Finnegan first read our outlook study to determine what further information might be useful to the Committee and the most suitable forum for its provision, explaining that our appearance with policy witnesses could be misunderstood. I also explained the security constraints associated with an open session. Finnegan appreciated these considerations but said that Chairman John D. Dingell (D., Mich.) was quite insistent that we appear. He assured me that the session would not focus on any aspects of the Administration's proposed program or pending legislation, recognized that we would not be able to provide classified information in open session, and could not foresee any contentious issues arising for us but, of course, we would be expected to explain why certain data must be classified and how we verify our data without, in either case, getting into classified information. Other members of the panel would include: the Secretary of Transportation, and the Administrators of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Federal Energy Administration, and the Energy Research Development Administration. Each panel member would read a short statement, respond to questions, and could rely upon back-up experts to respond to questions.

6. [ ] LIAISON At [ ] request, I called Gary Brown, on the staff of Representative Bud Shuster (R., Pa.), to discuss the unclassified CIA report on the international energy situation. Mr. Brown simply wanted some of the statistics to provide the Congressman, who was leaving town this afternoon. I read him the summary of the unclassified report.

I later talked to the Congressman and answered some questions he had on the international oil situation.

A copy of the report was later provided to Gary Brown.

7. [ ] BRIEFING Accompanied Anne Karalekas, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staffer, to the Chamber of Commerce building where she spoke to an Intelligence Process Course. The group received her talk very well and raised enthusiastic and challenging questions concerning the use of intelligence by the Select Committee and by Congress as a whole. While driving back to the Hill, Ms. Karalekas indicated that as a former teacher she thoroughly enjoyed the spirited exchange with our people.

8. [ ] ADMINISTRATIVE DELIVERIES Delivered to Mary Dooley, staff of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Internal Security, a copy of the Agency "Chiefs of State and Cabinet Members of Foreign Governments" per her request. She was away from her desk and Alfonso Tarabochia, of the same Subcommittee, said he would pass it on to her.

9. [ ] BRIEFING I accompanied [ ] ORPA/WH/Cuba, for his afternoon briefing of Charles E. Horner, of the staff of Senator Daniel P. Moynihan (D., N. Y.), in Senator Moynihan's office, on Cuba's posture vis-a-vis Puerto Rico and elsewhere. Horner's questions ranged widely and suggested some knowledge of Cuba and the historical antecedents of its current policies. We noted that the FBI should be Horner's source on Puerto Rico itself. There were no questions for follow-up answers. Horner also commented that Senator Moynihan planned to designate his staffer on the Select Committee on Intelligence soon.

11. [ ] LIAISON Received a telephone call from Philip Sparks, from the office of Representative Thomas J. Downey (D., N.Y.). Sparks stated that a constituent, [ ] was travelling in a private aircraft and made an emergency landing in Cuba, due to low fuel. Inquiries to the State Department indicated that there were complications regarding the release of [ ] and the Congressman requested any information this Agency had on either the incident or connections by [ ] with CIA. I passed this on to [ ] OS/ADD/O.

12. [ ] LIAISON Talked with Dan Childs, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staff, regarding the Director's appearance before the Committee this afternoon. I told Childs of the Director's concern on the sensitivity of the briefing on sensitive intelligence activities and of the Director's intention to meet with Chairman Daniel Inouye (D., Hawaii) and Vice Chairman Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) prior to his briefing of the Committee. Childs said it was possible that Senator William Hathaway (D., Maine) might sit in on this meeting.

13. [REDACTED] LIAISON I called Earl Eisenhower, Minority Staff Director, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, (who had been in Arizona during the Easter recess). I told him of the Director's desire to meet with Chairman Daniel Inouye (D., Hawaii) and Vice Chairman Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) prior to the meeting with the Committee this afternoon at which he will brief the members on sensitive intelligence collection activities in addition to giving the Committee an updated briefing on covert action programs. Eisenhower said that Senator Goldwater has not been well following his trip to the Far East and would have to go home to recuperate; therefore, he will not be able to meet with the Director and Chairman Inouye. Eisenhower said he would try to get another minority member to attend the meeting and offered to sit in for Senator Goldwater if the Director wished. He said he would not attend, however, unless he received further word from me. I checked with the Director, who preferred not to have Eisenhower present and therefore no call was made to him.

I told Eisenhower that John Waller, IG, was available to brief Bill Miller, Mike Madigan, also of the Committee staff, and himself on the Wilson case and developments in Libya and on the Stockwell case, at their convenience. Eisenhower said he wanted to do this as soon as possible and would get together with Miller and let us know a suitable time.
